Vernon College has been providing access and opportunity for students in north Texas since 1972. Vernon College's service area includes Archer, Baylor, Clay, Cottle, Foard, Hardeman, Haskell, King, Knox, Throckmorton, Wichita, and Wilbarger Counties, with Wilbarger County being the College's taxing district. The College's credit enrollments have increased from 1,750 in 1997, to 2,813 in 2007. This is no small task given that the College's service delivery area is sparsely populated and all but three counties are declining in population. Vernon College is committed to the open door concept of a comprehensive community college and we have worked diligently to implement an outstanding distance education program to serve our rural area. The College has in effect closed the geographic distance for the 28 independent school districts that we serve to allow students from rural high schools to take advantage of concurrent enrollment and dual credit courses. Vernon College has also worked very closely with our business and industry partners to ensure that the College is on the leading edge of workforce development in the region.

Vernon College purchased a facility in Wichita County in 2004 in order to meet the increasing demands for education and training in Wichita Falls. The purchase was completed by issuing revenue bonds because the college receives no tax support from Wichita County. In the last four years, Vernon College has truly become a multi-site institution with the campus in Vernon, three educational centers in Wichita Falls, and a Licensed Vocational Nursing Program in Seymour. The investment in Wichita County is a clear signal that Vernon College is committed to serving students in the College's service delivery area even without the much needed tax support from Wichita County.

Vernon College's steady growth is due to a number of proactive strategies, all intended to meet and exceed the goals of the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board's master plan of "Closing the Gaps". This comes at a time when state appropriations per contact hour for community colleges are slightly higher than appropriations in 1994-95. This comes at a time in which Vernon College has one of the highest tax rate and one of the lowest appraisal values of the 50 community college districts in the state, thus it is simply not possible to make up the difference in local tax support. This comes at a time when tuition and fees are increasing annually, and we are running the risk of closing the door to many of the students who come from lower socioeconomic backgrounds. The concern is that we may have already closed the door of opportunity for many students due to increased costs of attending college.

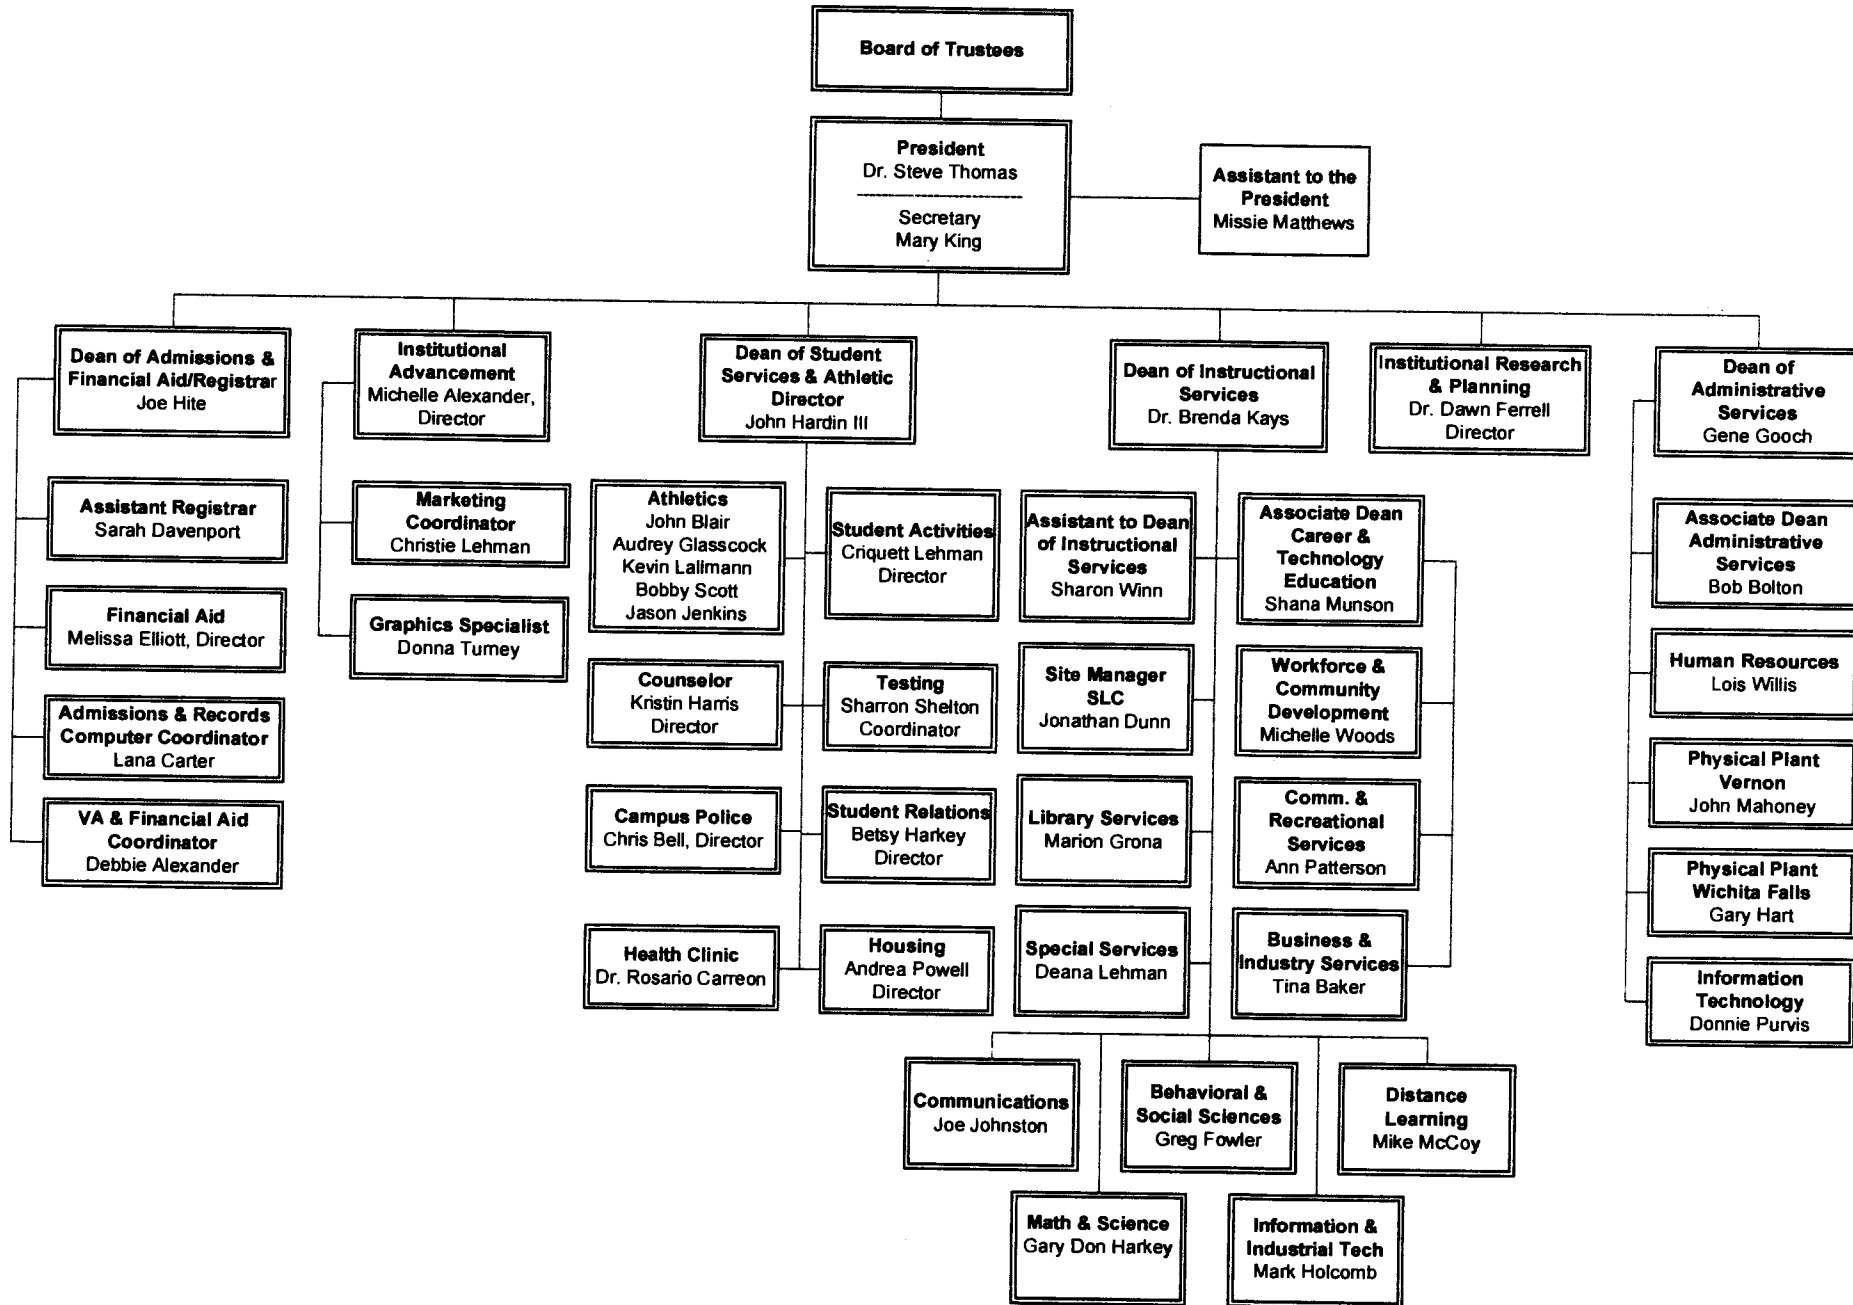

Since 1997, student tuition and fee revenue has increased as a percent of total revenue from 25.8% to 39.4%, and state appropriation as a percent of total revenue has decreased to a low of 43.3% in the last biennium. Ad valorem tax revenue was intended to be restricted to building and maintenance of the physical plant and athletic programs, but the overall decline in state support has placed a heavy burden on local taxpayers to meet the financial obligations of the College. The instability and decline of state support is contrary to the original covenant between the state of Texas and local community college districts. Clearly, it is critical to restore the balance between state appropriation, tuition and fees, and ad valorem taxes to ensure that all community colleges in the state are able meet the needs of an increasingly diverse student population.

Increasing demands for Vernon College's programs and services makes it crucial that adopting the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board's formula recommendation for community colleges must be the top priority for the 81st Legislature. Close to seventy five percent of all freshman and sophomores enrolled in Texas public higher education enroll in community colleges, and close to 80% of minority freshman and sophomores attending public institutions of higher education are attending Texas public community colleges. We provide access and opportunity for so many who otherwise would not attend college, and restoring state support for community colleges is imperative.

Vernon College endorses the additional formula request that was made on July 31, 2008 by the Texas Association of Community Colleges.
